It's late one Saturday night, and Rachelle has discovered that, once again, the only spoon in the entirety of Glass House has gone missing. Enraged at being kept from her cereal, she embarks on a quest around the house to find the culprit. Her first stop is at Honour's room, but Honour is too engrossed in one of her six Tumblr accounts to even notice her. Next door, Trinity is out with her friends again, and a little further down the hall Jessica Mou is busy chatting online with her friends in China. Next stop is Cassiopée and Katie's room. Neither one of them is there—Cassiopée is probably watching a movie with her sister Capucine, while the reverberating sounds coming from the basement tell everyone Katie is practicing her cello downstairs. Maria Del Mar and Paula are also out, no doubt working their Mexican charms on the boys. April is busy studying, and Rachelle knows that her dear roommate is just too polite to hide the spoon. Upstairs, Vanessa is dancing with her headphones on full blast—there's no point in trying to get her attention. Elisa has taken the weekend off from studying to visit Shawn, while next door Taylor is already asleep, recuperating from a long day of dominating the rugby field. Ally, our little angel, looks up from studying when Rachelle knocks on her door, but it's hard to suspect Ally of a crime as serious as spoon theft. Clémentine is in the common room, too busy having a conversation with TLC to have anything to do with the spoon. Jessica Walsh, our head of house, is exempt from suspicion by default, while her roommate Romy is simply too good at acting innocent to be anything but. Nicola is sketching out some designs for her latest artistic masterpiece, while Maria I. and Ellen are eating noodles in Ellen's room, surrounded by Asian jellies and candies from their latest trip to Chinatown. For a moment, Rachelle thinks she has found the spoon, but a quick inspection reveals the two are using forks, not spoons. Christina and Megan are laughing uproariously at... something... while Natalia, like Elisa, has taken a hard-earned break to visit her boyfriend. Haley is either studying, away, or asleep, but at any rate she isn't answering her door, so Rachelle eventually gives up.

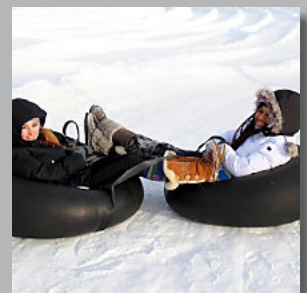

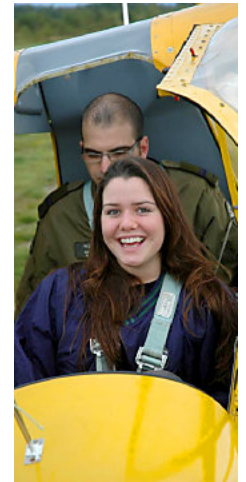

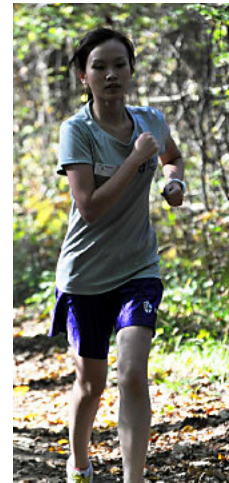

Now seriously craving some Cheerios, Rachelle takes a visit to Ms. Harding's apartment. Our Assistant Houseparent is busy cleaning and she's found quite a few odds and ends but, sadly, no spoons. Downstairs, Kat is planning her latest art project, but explains to Rachelle that she is using Popsicle sticks, not spoons. Ms. Laramée is in the common room, giving out advice to everyone who happens to stop by, while Mme Turcotte is sitting at the table, listening to heavy metal with the volume turned waaaaay down while she does teacher stuff. In a last act of desperation, Rachelle knocks on our glorious Houseparent Julie's door. She explains the situation and Julie, laughing, hands her a brand new pack of spoons bought with the House's tuck money. As Rachelle runs off to her cereal, Julie shakes her head, wondering just how twenty-four girls can go through so much cutlery.

“Round Square [RS] is a world-wide association of schools on five continents sharing unique and ambitious goals. Students attending Round Square schools make a strong commitment, beyond academic excellence, to personal development and responsibility.”

The RS program provides the opportunity to develop this understanding through service projects, student exchanges, GAP years and conferences. Bishop's College School is going into its 30th year as a RS global member. And this year at BCS we had approximate 20 students on the RS committee, a number of students participating in RSIS projects in Peru, Cambodia, Exchange students from Australia, South Africa, as well as GAP students from England and Australia. The 2013 Round Square International conference took place in Boca Raton, Florida, and the 2014 RS Senior Regional Conference in Toronto, Canada.

form VI

Home Country: Orangeville Ontario
Nicknames: Ben, Ben-la-bedaine
Activities involved in: Hockey, Soccer and lacrosse
Ambition: to play D1 NCAA hockey
Lasting Memories: when we won the LHPS for BCS in hockey.

Benjamin Adams

Home Country: Belgium

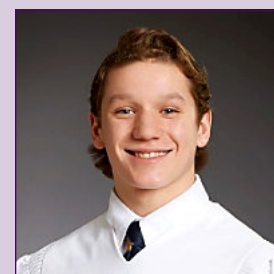

William Babineau

Home Country: Bermuda

Brendan Barritt

Home Country: Freelon, Ontario.
Nicknames: Tybo, Bob Marley, Rudolf and fatty (thanks Pat).
Ambition: My aspirations are to study dentistry in university and to play Division I hockey.
Lasting memories: I have met tons of nice people here at BCS, including the hockey guys I played with. We won the Provincial and LHPS finals, something I will remember for the rest of my life. The year was filled with inside jokes, such as "arigatto mange mon gateau", Bob and George, turning down one way streets and certainly "serdeggle". My form 6 year has been one of the best years of my life.

Tyler Beauparlant

Home Country: Canada

Simon Blervaque

Home Country: Germany
Nickname: Dancing Queen

Ambition: To create a better world through my actions in the classroom and on the field.
Probable Destiny: Wildlife biologist and part time hunting guide in northern Alberta.
Lasting Memories: All the great friends I've met along the way, the sports and of course the dining hall food. The countless opportunities I've been provided by my excellent family and all the experiences I had with my great friends. I will miss dearly Ally Chen, William and Thomas Lynn for they are great friends of mine.

Joshua Bray

Home Country: China
Nickname: pril
Activities involved in: band, choir, dining hall committee
Ambition: to live the happiest life with my family

Class of 2014

lifers

Jonathan Crowther

I've been attending BCS for the past six years, but I've lived on campus for over fourteen years now. I've seen the rules, people, teachers and campus change. Being a lifer at a school that replaces half of the student body each year provides a unique experience. While I get to meet lots of new people, I also have to say a lot of goodbyes.

That is the hardest part of being a lifer. I've had to part with so many friends, that I feel guilty now that it is my turn to say goodbye. But all good things must come to an end, and here I am, faced with that end. I hope fellow lifers in the younger grades have as great of an experience as I've had, and I hope they will appreciate the opportunities available to them.

So long BCS, we've been together for years, and now we must part ways. Thank you for everything you've given me.

Mathieu Dubois

On my arrival at BCS in 2008, I quickly understood the adventure that was waiting for me. During my six years, I learned to manage my time better and certainly create great friendship,

which I will never forget. BCS gave me the opportunity to travel outside the province from education and also sports. BCS made me enjoy my time in high school. I couldn't ask better for a better six years of my life. To me

"Lifer" represent six full years of enjoying my life in a school that change me for the best.

Sarah Hopkins

How do you sum up six years in a few short paragraphs? A novel could not do justice all the memories and stories BCS has left me with. However, knowing that in twenty years I and many others will look back at this yearbook to remind myself of this beautiful school, I will try to put into words what this school means to me. It's hard to imagine that in 11 days I will be saying goodbye to all the people who have made this an unforgettable journey.

First, there are the teachers and coaches who have always been there for me over the past six years. From my amazing houseparent, Mrs. Holland, who has been there day after day to support me and guide me, to my advisor, Mr. Wilt, who not only made 8.25am on a Thursday seem enjoyable, but taught me so much both in and out of the classroom.

To my friends: you have been there with me on both the good days and the bad days. I arrived at BCS as a shy, scared 11 year old, but you brought me out of my shell. Without you, I would not have become the (mostly) confident 17 year old I am today. I finally feel ready to leave BCS behind. I may not be certain of my future, but I know that whatever challenges I face I am prepared and you will always be there to lean on, just as I will always be there for you.

Finally, to the students of BCS: each and every one of you has helped me in some way or another, and I am forever indebted to you for that. People will keep telling you that BCS provides you with incredible opportunities, and you may get sick and tired of hearing it, but I can promise you that it's true. If you put your all into BCS, you will receive so much back. At the end of the day, it is all worth it.

I still can not believe I have been at BCS for 6 years! Time passes by so fast! When I arrived in form 2, I was only 12 years old and I was scared, I felt like an outsider.

Today, I feel like I belong. I have met so many great people here, people who I will keep in touch with for a very long time. BCS was a great experience and I will always remember all the opportunities I was given to experience something new every time. Remember, no matter where we're from, we all have something special that connects us to one another.

Karell Tanguay

I have been here since form 2, which means that I arrived at BCS when I was 12 years old. I am now 18 and I can assure you that this school is the best fit for me. Coming here was my parent's decision because I did not want to attend this school at all. Luckily, I had no choice. I arrived here with a closed mind, not even trying to like it. I knew how to speak English, but I was really shy to express myself and connecting with others was my biggest challenge. Being taught in a different language than my maternal one was also very difficult, but now I wouldn't go back to studying in French. It took me a long time to start appreciating BCS, but now I can only thank my parents for making this decision. Not only have I learned here, I have also met wonderful people, as well as growing as an individual. I, sometimes, have taken wrong decisions, but they made me who I am today, and I would absolutely not change my path here if I could do so. BCS has helped me in so many ways and gave me many great opportunities. I leave this school with a bit of nostalgia and with the very best memories.

Committed Head Prefect
Jono has no defect
With friends shooting hoops,
He is as great on and off the court

Even though he's always fooling around
And annoyingly acting like a clown,
Mathieu is one of the greatest friends out there
And it's a shame that he's leaving this year.

Beautiful handsome Gab,
Forever loves the Habs.
When he gets the puck on the ice,
You know the goal is gonna be nice.

Stephane's always there to put a smile on your face,
He will always beat you in a snowboarding race.
To us he's more than the Pokémon guy,
Which will make it so hard to say goodbye.

Everyday Kevin thinks about Basketball,
But you poorly know how to dribble the ball,
With your spine move and dunk, the crowd goes crazy
While the players on the court admire your talent, they feel dizzy.

Short and sweet her laugh can be heard,
Always acing her tests but never a nerd,
Compassionate and strong Vianney wills others on,
I will miss you when our time is all gone.

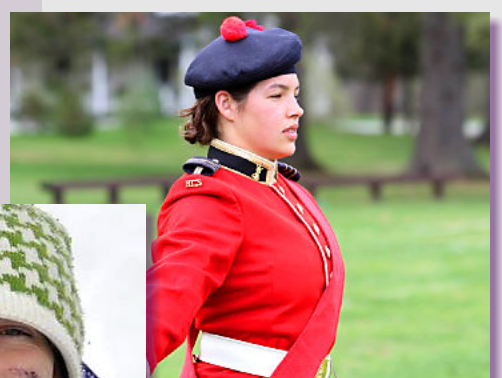

Aude is the shortest of the crew,
But don't let her fool you,
Flawless like in the Beyoncé song
Not loving her is impossible and wrong.

Sarah's a friend, she always knows best
She constantly stands out from the rest
She's loyal and kind and earns my respect
In short, she's quite nearly perfect.

We call her Barney and Bieber but her name is Bonnie,
For others she is Cinnabonie
She is beautiful, smart, amazing and not an Abonnienation.
She is a German perfection.

Vicky the smart and sporty,
Always looks like a cuty,
Often the center of attention,
She deserves a positive mention.

head of school's page

Mr. William Mitchell
Head of School

In my remarks at the Graduation Ceremony, I focused in part on two aspects of school life that I believe are particularly strong at BCS. I mentioned that I and others on the faculty or the Board are asked to answer the question as to what makes BCS different from other schools. That's not always easy to answer because all schools aspire to strong academics, challenging activities and a safe and wholesome environment.

I said, however, that I thought I had identified two things that are very strong at BCS, and to a greater degree than I have experienced previously.

It's not that these strengths do not exist in other schools. Rather, it is the consistent and profound way that we witness them at this school.

The first is the positive engagement of students to teachers and teachers to students that we see reflected in the bi-weekly effort ratings. In nine out of 13 effort ratings this year, over 50% of the students were recognized – a first. The number of D's in the whole school, dropped from over 400 last year to just under 100 this year. That's a remarkable drop and one measure of positive engagement.

The second thing that I think makes BCS different are the many opportunities for student leadership. However, it is not just the number of experiences that are impressive. It is the seriousness and the responsibility with which the student leaders perform their tasks that is remarkable. Whether as Prefects, and so, officers of the school; as cadet officers and NCO's; as Wardens in the Chapel; as members of the Dining Hall Committee; as House Captains; or as leaders of Round Square, or in striving for gold in the Duke of Edinburgh Awards, it is the consistency and the maturity with which the leaders carry out their responsibilities that have impressed me so greatly.

In doing so, these leaders derive worthwhile life skills and contribute greatly to the tone, climate, harmony and efficiency of daily life in this school – a community we strive to define and maintain as a civil community.

This yearbook illustrates, in a most lively and comprehensive way, the high level of activity and engagement of those who teach and learn at BCS. It is a permanent record of one year of a thriving school community.

- William Mitchell
